

Scott McCorquodale accomplishments 2025-26

In early April 2026, I was honored to receive a Lifetime Achievement Award from the WA state chapter of The Wildlife Society (TWS). TWS is the professional association for wildlife biologists. I was given the award at the WA-TWS annual conference in Wenatchee. This award recognizes the long-term impact of a biologist on wildlife conservation and management in the state. It was humbling to get that kind of recognition from my peers.

I published two books last year. The first one won first-place honors in the NOWA EIC competition for works published in 2025.
